

The Creator of Earth

By Matthew Mitchell

Long ago, before earth was ever made, there were super human beings that lived amongst the stars. Just like any past or present time there are some that are stronger than others.

Amongst these stars there lived a brave strong, and fierce hero. His name was Mateo. Mateo could fly and run as fast as lightning. Even though he was so strong and powerful his biggest strength was his caring heart. He was willing to help others in a time of need.

Where there is good there is also evil, and on this place is Mateo's greatest enemy, the great and powerful Big Z. Big Z was also very strong but his heart was mean and evil. He cared about nothing but himself and the destruction of everything.

One Big Z bumped into this old man and fell. When the old man looked up he saw it was Big Z. "Watch where you're going Big Z!" the old man yelled. Although he was old and weak the old man was not afraid.

of Big Z. "Ha Ha Ha!" Big Z laughed with an evil grin. "Owww!" the old man yelled as Big Z pushed him again. "Ahhh!" Big Z snatched the old man's bread straight out of his hands.

In his time there was not much bread so it was expensive. Mateo flew down from the sky. "Woosh." "What is going on here." Mateo yelled. The old man pointed to Big Z. "Stomp, Stomp, Stomp!" was all heard as Big Z ran into his laboratory.

Mateo flew so fast he got to Big Z before anybody could blink. "Woosh!" He snatched the bag in a flash and ran it back to the old man. Now it was time for the final showdown.

Big Z was ready starting in his fierce fighting stance. "Bzzzz!" Mateo shot at Big Z with his laser eyes. "Oooh!" Big Z dodged it with no problem at all and came back with a triple turn kick. "Hi-ya!" Mateo blocked it. "Boom!"

Mateo picked up a space rock and threw it at Big Z but Big Z blocked it. "Boom!"

"He is too powerful!" Mateo yelled. The old man went up to Mateo as he struggled to catch his breath. "Gulp" "Don't worry about strength, focus on strategy." The old man said. Mateo took the man's advice and started kicking him. "But wait" "You're the good guy, spare me!" Big Z yelled. "Uhh I think not." Mateo said sarcastically. Mateo did a double spin kick.

Big Z flew in the sky so high when he came down he was on fire. A rage took over his body as he began to power up. His hand started making a super blast. It got larger and larger until it was almost as big as a house. "Chullato pullato haaga!" Big Z yelled.

The blast came toward Mateo like nothing ever seen before. Mateo powered up his body. "Ahhh." Mateo shot a blast that sent Big Z's blast back. "Powww!" Suddenly the blast of energy just stopped and there was a big blue ball in front of both Mateo and Big Z. This was how the earth was created.
