

Story Tracer

There was a war raging on between the gods and the Titans. Kronos the time lord, has risen once again and is trying to overthrow all the gods on Mount Olympus. While the gods are battling Kronos, Atlas, and Typhon, the strongest god, Triton is battling the old sea gods, Hyperion and Proton. Little does Triton know that he will face a terrible tragedy.

Proudly did people sing about Triton, the greatest of all the descendants of Danuvas. His mother was Calypso granddaughter of Circe and Polyphemus, His father was the great Triton. Triton was known for his strength, leadership, intelligence, and most of all bravery. He became the greatest hero on Earth.

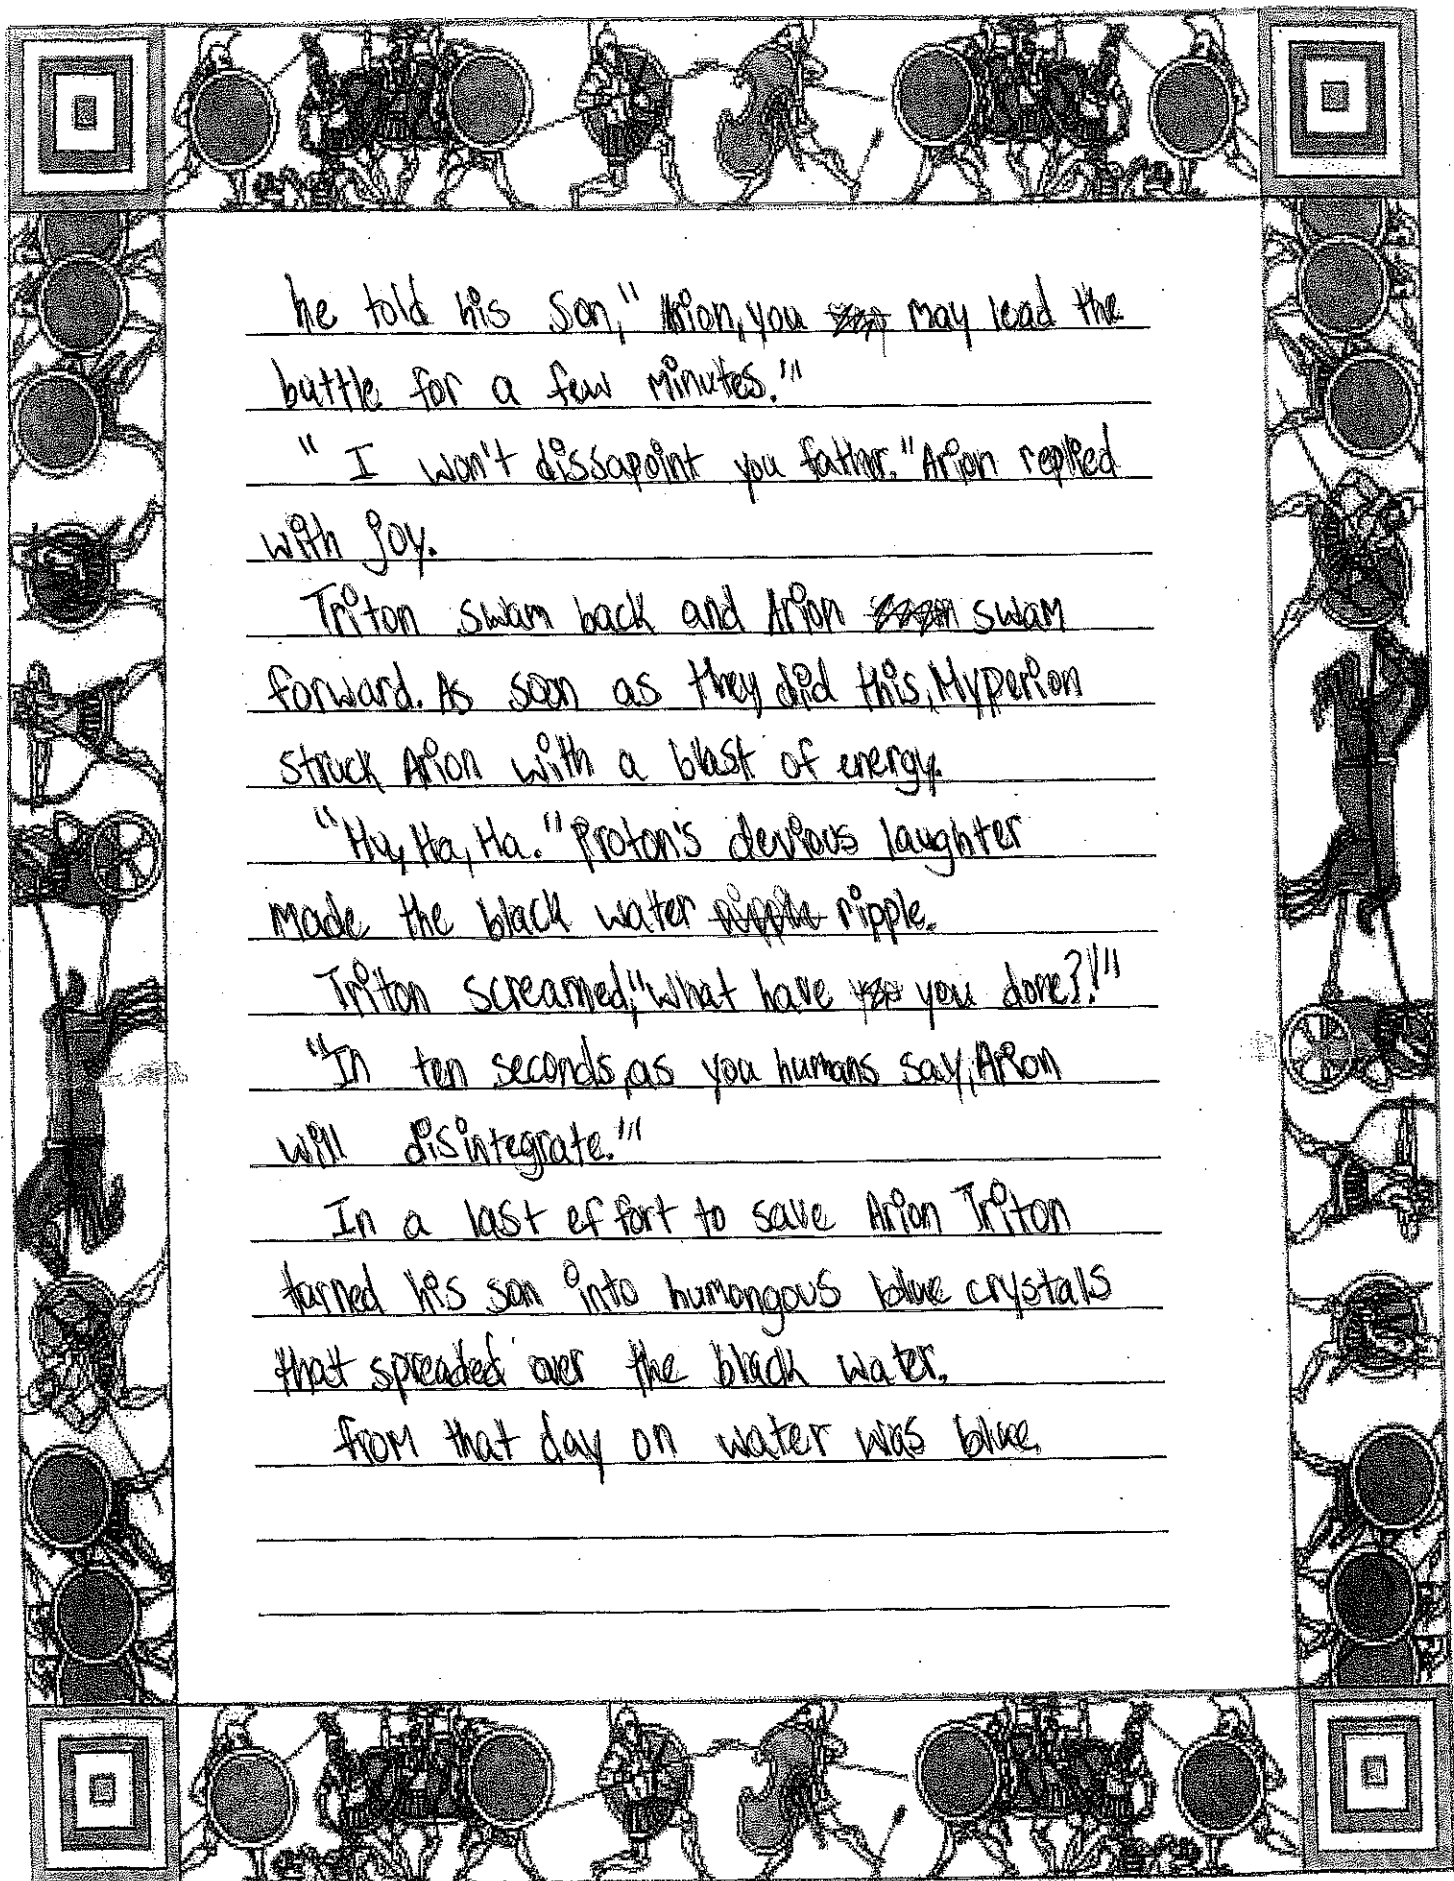

Triton sat in the shining black palace as it rumbled and shook with fear.

Inside the palace, cyclops were in the blacksmith shop building swords and clubs rapidly. Outside the palace, Triton struck Hyperion and Proton with his trident of lightning, water, and darkness. Arion tired of waiting around in the palace surrounded by hippocampe, swam in the murky black water until he was behind Triton.

"Father, I shall lead the battle to show I am worthy of being your son. I will beat Hyperion and Proton and make them rebuild our damaged palace!"

Triton disapproved of the fact that Arion wanted to lead the battle. He knew that the power of Hyperion and Proton combined was more than enough to wipe out everything underwater ~~but~~ however, Triton ~~is~~ did not want to disappoint his son. Reluctantly he told his son, "Arion, you ~~may~~ may lead the battle for a few minutes."

"I won't disappoint you father." Arion replied with joy.

Triton swam back and Arion ~~swam~~ swam forward. As soon as they did his Hyperion struck Arion with a blast of energy.

"Ha, Ha, Ha." Triton's nervous laughter made the black water ~~ripple~~ ripple.

Triton screamed, "What have ~~you~~ you done?!"

"In ten seconds, as you humans say, Arion will disintegrate."

In a last effort to save Arion Triton turned his son into humongous blue crystals that spread over the black water.

From that day on water was blue.